JASN EDITORIAL LEADERSHIP

Editor-In-Chief, Eric G. Neilson, MD, FASN

The leading kidney journal in the world and the flagship journal of the ASN, the Journal of the American Society of Nephrology (JASN) publishes high-profile clinical studies, cutting-edge basic research, reviews, editorials and special content that are the most read and cited by all professionals working in kidney disease. A worldwide audience turns to JASN for the most relevant and credible advances in kidney care. JASN content reaches hematologists, bone specialists, geriatricians, epidemiologists, molecular and cell biologists as well as nephrologists.

JASN publishes the same high quality scientific research that is presented at the ASN annual meeting (Renal Week). Each issue covers topics in clinical nephrology, renal and epithelial physiology, renal pathophysiology, body fluid, electrolyte and acid-base metabolism, hypertension, dialysis, renal transplantation, many diseases and evidence-based medicine.

CJASN EDITORIAL LEADERSHIP

Editor-In-Chief, William M. Bennett, MD

In just a few short years CJASN has established itself as the resource for the latest advances in clinical care in kidney health and disease. CJASN advances the practice of renal medicine by reporting novel and clinical research. In 2009 the impact factor for CJASN rose from 2.236 to 4.361, indicative of the reach and importance of the clinical studies published in this journal.

CJASN publishes clinical outcome studies, natural history of renal diseases, chronic kidney disease, dialysis, hypertension, cardiovascular disease in the context of renal dysfunction, diagnostic/therapeutic interventions in renal disease, acute/critical care medicine, renal pathophysiology, body fluids and electrolyte and acid-based metabolism.

CJASN's content also includes solicited review articles, special features, as well as educational materials focused on all clinical aspects of nephrology.

nephSAP EDITORIAL LEADERSHIP

Editor-In-Chief, Stanley Goldfarb, MD, FASN

nephSAP offers an unsurpassed quality and range of educational opportunities to kidney care providers, as well as CME and MOC credits. This widely read journal is fully accessed both in print and online, and presents the most current findings on diagnosis, treatment and research that improves medical practice and patient care.
